

Water Blisters All Over Body For Thirteen Years

Itched So Had to Tie Child's Hands, Very Cross and Fretful. Hair Came Out. Cuticura Healed.

"My son was three years old when water blisters began on his head, then on his eyes, and then all over his body. His skin was inflamed and red, and the breaking out itched so that I had to tie his hands for fear he would scratch and make it spread. He was very cross and fretful, and kept me awake nights. His clothing would stick to him and his hair came out and was dry and lifeless. The trouble lasted thirteen years.

"He began to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and in two weeks there was hardly a pimple on my boy, and now he is healed." (Signed) Mrs. Martha L. Thomas, R. F. D. 3, Chester, Vt., Oct. 4, 1916.

Use Cuticura Soap for toilet purposes, assisted, now and then, by touches of Cuticura Ointment to soothe and heal any tendency to irritation, redness or roughness of the skin or scalp. By using these delicate, fragrant super-creamy emollients for all toilet purposes you may prevent many skin and scalp troubles becoming serious.

Town Makes Two Appropriations

Votes $1,000 for Purchase of Wood for Fuel in Case of Necessity—$1,000 Appropriated to Keep Thames River Channel Open—Martin E. Jensen Made Agent of Funds.

Wednesday evening at a special town meeting $2,000 was voted to be used in case of emergency to relieve the fuel shortage. One thousand dollars was voted to be used in the purchase of the material and then called on for the other thousand was appropriated to be used to open the channel of the Thames river should the city be short of coal with the prospect of obtaining relief through barges being brought up the river.

The meeting was called to order promptly at eight o'clock by First Selectman Caspar K. Bailey. Judge H. H. Pettis was appointed moderator and was given an ovation as he took the chair. Town Clerk Charles S. Holbrook then read the call for the meeting. Judge Pettis said that he didn't think it was necessary to say anything concerning the importance of the matter and then called on Martin E. Jensen, chairman of the local fuel committee of the State Council of Defense to put the facts of the situation before the town.

An Emergency Action.

Mr. Jensen said that the action was only of an emergency nature and not a move to compete with the local wood dealers. The idea was merely to have a reserve fund in case of emergency. The town is not committed to any permanent action and should the present fuel shortage be relieved the town would not be bound to use the money. The money appropriated will be used only if occasion arose which placed the town without fuel.

Resolutions Unanimously Passed.

E. A. Tracy said that it was not really a question of $1,000 for if necessary $5,000 would be appropriated, but that the chief thing was to do some thing which would bring results.

He was followed by E. W. Cary who told of how the Mississippi was kept open by tugs. He said that the westerners were well represented in congress while we were not. This appropriation was in the nature of an experiment as far as he knew nothing of the sort had ever been done before. It was cheaped to bring coal to Norwich by water than to bring it by rail to Albany's Point, although the dealers were not allowed to charge any more for the coal. He said that the state and New England fuel administrators had returned from a conference with Dr. Garfield at Washington thoroughly disheartened over the outlook and believing that it would soon be necessary for many of the dealers to shut down their lack of coal. The committee if necessary should arise and should see that the channel was opened but it was all in the hands of nature as the channel might not freeze again or it might freeze so solid that it could not be broken. After a few remarks by the dealers referring to the time when the money could be used the motions were passed unanimously.

Favored Municipal Coal.

When further business was called for L. W. Kirkwood arose and said that while the appropriations had been a step in the right direction, that measures would be taken to have the town take over the coal business and have it run by a manager whose salary would be paid by the town. The fall and winter the public has been treated even more harshly than in former years by the coal barons of this country and the arrangement proposed upon as they have been by those professedly in the coal business and I believe that the majority of the town would be glad to see the coal controlled by the town.

The meeting adjourned at 8.25.

SOLDIERS CHRISTMAS PACKAGES

Letters of Thanks From Camp Dix Are Received by Norwich Private Day School.

Two letters of appreciation for the gifts which were sent to Company F stationed at Camp Dix, N. J., by the children of the Norwich Day School have been received here. The gifts were very much appreciated as can be seen by the following letters:

Camp Dix, N. J.

To the Children of the Norwich Private Day School:

On behalf of the men in Company F of this regiment, I want to thank you all very much for the Christmas packages we have received. If you could have been here and heard the nice things said about you, you would have felt amply repaid. You see, the packages were very much needed and could be used; that means a good deal to a soldier, who has little room for anything that is not absolutely necessary.

Keep up doing things for the Red Cross; it helps a lot, and helping, that is what you, at home, want to be doing. Respectfully,

H. D. OVINGTON.

First Lieutenant Inf. R. C. 301th Regiment, Company F, Inf. Camp Dix, N. J.

The Norwich Private Day School:

I received the Red Cross Christmas packages by your through the Norwich chapter and certainly feel I owe each one of you a vote of thanks. The packages were very much needed and could be used; that means a good deal to a soldier, who has little room for anything that is not absolutely necessary.

However, their turn is coming, and they will be allowed to go home for New Year's.

Wishing you all happiness in the New Year and thanking you again for your thoughtfulness.

Sincerely yours,

GORDON HAGE.

Second Lieut. 310th Inf.

TIEUP OF TRANSPORTATION CAUSING COAL SHORTAGE

Fuel Administrator Garfield so Informs Senate Committee.

Washington, Dec. 26.—Much of the effect of the fuel administration's work has been nullified, Fuel Administrator Garfield told the senate committee investigating the coal shortage today, by the transportation tie-up.

The administration's efforts have been directed to a great extent to the stimulation of production to meet demands of the war, but Dr. Garfield said because of the traffic congestion "the more we produced the more trouble we added to the railroads."

In the past few days the private consumer has been given more consideration than heretofore, Dr. Garfield explained. At first the main idea was to supply the government, the railroads, but with the suffering due to the shortage in many places, he said, the administration recently had devoted more of its time to attempting to get coal to places where it was most needed. Conditions already are better, he stated, though the situation was not well in the way and would not be until transportation facilities were greatly improved.

Dr. Garfield said he was not familiar with dividends many of the coal companies were paying out that he believed many operators were making more money than ever before. Good prices he regarded as necessary to large production.
